The Grim Reaper Cuts Short Her Life After Giving Birth to A New Life

Probably the saddest thing an editor is called upon to chronicle in his weekly budget of local happenings, is the sudden taking away of a respected citizen, and when the person called by the Almighty is a mother in the prime of life, the duty is extremely sad. As recorded in these columns last week, the household of James S. Cox was made glae on the Nation's birthday by the advent of a big, bright boy, the coming of the little fellow was the sounding of the Death angel's trumpet for the woman that had given him birth and had so patiently awaited his coming.

Several days after the child was born Mrs. Cox began to weaken and blood poisoning rapidly developed, and, although two of the best physicians of Northern Montana we called it was of no avail. After four days of intense suffering her spirit took flight, about 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Sarah Smith Cox was born in Dent county Missouri on the 15th day of September 1872, being at the time of her death, a little less than 37 years of age. She had been a resident of Montana about twelve years, and of this vicinity about seven years. Besides her husband the deceased leaves two young daughters and the infant son, her aged mother and several brothers and sisters and a host of friends to mourn her loss. Mrs. Cox was an industrious woman, a kind and loving mother and her loss will be a most svers blow to those who so dear to her.

The remains were interred in the new grave yard east of town, Saturday afternoon. A large number of relatives and friends followed the body to the grave. Rev. F. W. Pool of Havre conducted the funeral services.

The stricken family has the utmost sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement.

Old Man Drops Dead at Valier

Valier, Sept. 27.—D. F. Kelly, of Chester, Mont., dropped dead this morning while attempting to lift a barrel at the Valier water works. He was 63 years old and came here last week with a well drilling outfit. His wife and family live on a desert claim near Chester.

The town was shocked Monday afternoon to learn of the sudden death of D. L. Kelly at Valler. Mr. Kelly left here about three weeks ago with his well drilling outfit to do some work south of the Marias river and was apparently in good health. Mrs. Kelly and daughter left at once for Conrad and took the body to his old home in Wisconsin for burial. Mr. Kelley was one of the first of the new comers, having taken up land early last spring. He was of a quiet disposition and his many friends will mourn his death. The family has the sympathy of a large circle of acquaintances.

Andrew H. Morton Dead

The news of the death of Andy Morton was received in Chester Friday afternoon, by his many friends with profound regret, especially so because no one knew he was ailing.

Andrew Morton was born in Nova Scotia almost 56 years ago, and has been a resident of this vicinity for several years. At the time of his death, last Thursday afternoon, he was a resident of Gold Butte, at which place his body was temporarily interred. The intention being to remove it to the land of his birth at a later date for final interment.

Rufus P. Morton, of Brickton, Minn. a brother of Andy's, arrived Monday morning, but was too late to be present at the funeral.

Mr. Morton is survived by four brothers residing in Minnesota and one in Nova Scotia. Peace to his ashes.

L. B. Stark Dies In Helena

Leonard B. Stark, one of the early settlers of the Sweet Grass hills county, died in Helena on the 27th of August, after an illness extending over a considerable period. His remains were taken to his old home at Waukesha, Wisconsin for burial.

Mr. Stark was for many years engaged in the sheep business and accumulated a comfortable fortune, but his health gave way and for sometime he had known that his recovery was extremely doubtful.

He was well liked by his fellowmen and they will sincerely regret his death
