Death of Infant,

The five weeks' old baby boy of Mr. and Mrs. George Ainley, died Thursday after an illness of only a few days, and was buried Friday afternoon.

Rev. Wellborn conducted the services. The parents have the sympathy of everyone in their loss.
He Tried to Stop a Runaway Team

A team of horses attached to a dead axe wagon became frightened and ran away from in front of the Chester Trading company's store. The hind wheels and box became detached and as the horses attached to the front part of the wagon were passing in the rear of Samuel Applegate's residence in the southwestern part of town, he being at work there, jumped out in front of them and to stop them by main force. He was knocked down, his back broken and the print of a horse shoe left on his chest. He was picked up right at his own back door, more dead than alive, and placed upon a bed. Doctor Melvin was called, who stated that his back was broken. The Presbyterian minister was also sent for and came.

Mrs. Applegate had gone to the depot to meet her mother, Mrs. Mary Hummel, who was on No. 1, coming from Crawfordsville, Ind. When she returned home, her husband was able to talk and exclaimed that she had just returned in time to see him die. The doctor administered morphine enough to allay the pain.

Mr. Applegate was a kind and affectionate husband and father, and should he not survive, will leave a most devoted wife, the mother of his three little children.

June 23 - July 7 - 8, 1910

Thursday morning found him much improved. About noon Dr. McKenzie of Havre arrived and after diagnosing the case, the best he could under the circumstances, suggested that the patient be sent to Great Falls, where he could receive the best of medical and hospital treatment under trained nurses. Dr. Melvin, accompanied by Dr. McKenzie, left with the sufferer on Thursday evening's train for the Falls.

The physicians' general opinion is, without the X-ray, that Mr. Applegate is suffering from a dislocation of the back, but to what extent is yet to be determined. The patient was feeling better when he left.

BROKEN BACK CAUSES DEATH

Samuel Applegate Dies After Suffering Eighteen Days With Back Broke

The death of Samuel Applegate who was seriously injured while attempting to stop a runaway team on June 16th, occurred at his home in this city on Tuesday morning. Mr. Applegate had suffered for eighteen days and death came as a decided relief to the injured man. It was on the afternoon of Thursday June 16, when his family were at the depot to meet Mrs. Applegate's mother, that he ran out from behind his house and in so doing was right in front of the team that was too close to him for them to change their direction, and they knocked him for some feet. He was picked up at once and taken to the house where every attention was given him. Dr. Melvin was called and stated that every indication was that the man's back was broken and that there was but little hopes for his recovery. On Friday Mrs. Applegate took her husband to the Deaconess Hospital at Great Falls in the hopes that something could be done for his relief and recovery. The Doctors there made a very close examination on Saturday forenoon and found that his back was broken in two places and that there was nothing that could be done to save the man's life. However Mr. Applegate was kept at the hospital for about two weeks, but apparently nothing could be done there that could not be done at the home and last Friday he was brought back to Chester and taken care of at the family home.

Mr. Applegate and family came here this spring from Washington and expected to make their home here. The bereaved family consists of Mrs. Applegate, one son, and three girls. The son being the oldest of the children. Mrs. Applegate and the children leave today for their old time home in Indiana where the burial will be made at Cicero, where Mr. Applegate was raised and the family will make their future home at Marian, Indiana, which is near to Cicero.
Mrs. Bannister Answers Maker's Call

Death has again invaded a Chester home, this time claiming the soul of Mrs. Bannister, wife of William Bannister of Second street, at one o'clock yesterday morning.

Mrs. Bannister had been ill with typhoid fever for several weeks past and for some days it was known that she could not recover. She was born in Toronto, Canada, almost forty-three years ago, and was married to Mr. Bannister about twenty-three years since.

The family came here from Great Falls about one year ago, and consisted of the husband, wife and two daughters, Mrs. Walter Hunnewell and Miss Emily, who survive.

The body was embalmed and taken to Great Falls for burial.

The family has the deepest sympathy of all who knew them, in their hour of affliction.

Mrs. Bannister Dies

Wednesday morning of this week, the sad news of Mrs. Bannister's death was passed around town. She having died during the night. Mrs. Bannister has been sick with typhoid for several weeks and for several days her death has been expected. She took sick while caring for the daughter, Emma, who has been sick the greater part of the summer. Embalmer Holland came up from Havre on the Skidoo, Wednesday, and prepared the body for shipment to Great Falls where burial will be made. The deceased leaves a husband and two daughters.

Henry Brinkman
Shot and Killed

Tom Hulehan brought word to Chester Tuesday afternoon that Mark Cockrill, one of the old timers of this country, had shot and killed Henry Brinkman, equally well known and also an old time resident of northern Montana. The difficulty seems to have been over school affairs and has been standing for several years. The principals met at the Marias postoffice, when, so report says, Cockrill called Brinkman outside and informed him that they would have it out. It appears from the report that Brinkman got Cockrill down and was beating him up when Cockrill drew his gun and commenced shooting. The first two shots struck Brinkman in the abdomen and the third bullet went through the stomach killing him almost instantly.

Cockrill came to Chester at once and wired Sheriff Bickle that he would go to the county seat and give himself up and then left on the evening train for that place.

The body of the murdered man was brought to Chester yesterday and placed in Chapmman’s hall where the coroner is holding an inquest this afternoon.

The Brinkman family appear to have an unusually sad epoch in its history, as it is but a few months since a sister died and just a few days ago the aged mother was buried.

Mr. Brinkman was in the best years of his life and leaves a wife, father, two brothers and a sister to mourn his early death.

The funeral will be held at Fort Benton.
DEATH

The first fatal illness from typhoid fever occurred last Thursday night. It claimed as its victim Lawrence A. Gorman, the seventeen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gorman, who recently moved to this city from Washington.

The young man had been sick but a few days when the death angel claimed him. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon and was conducted by Rev. Father Sansome of Havre and the body was laid at final rest in the new cemetery.

The bereaved parents have the sympathy of everyone in this city.

Lawrence A. Gorman Dead

The death of the only son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gorman occurred at their home in this city on Thursday evening just as the midnight hour was passing. He had been sick but a few days, taking to his bed on Sunday before. The boy appeared to be on the gain, so much so that Mr. Gorman was taking a little rest. Hardly could Mrs. Gorman realize that death had come, as the boy simply slept from life into death without rousing from his peaceful sleep.

Lawrence A. Gorman was born in Michigan seventeen years ago and with the family went west to Washington and later came to Chester. Death was attributed to a complication of diseases.

The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon from the house Father Sansome reading the ceremony. Interment was made at the Chester cemetery.

The bereaved family have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community in their sad time of affliction.
The little baby of Mr. and Mrs. Ca. Johnson died last Thursday after being ill for a few days.
Homesick Bride Of Two Weeks Suicides

Word was brought to this city Thursday evening that Mrs. James Laird, a bride of but two weeks, had committed suicide at her home near Laird the evening before. It seems that the lady had become homesick and ill and it is presume that while temporarily deranged committed the rash act.

Mrs. Laird, who was Miss Smith, recently arrived in this country from Aberdeenshire, Scotland, and was married to Mr. Laird in Havre on the 20th of last month, and came to the latter's home in the East Butte country soon after.

The deceased was about 38 years of age and as far as we can learn had no relatives in this country except her husband, whom she had known in the Old country. The body was buried in the temporary cemetery Friday afternoon, the Rev. Wellborn conducting the services. The entire country sympathises with Mr. Laird in his untimely bereavement.

The news of the death of Mrs. James Laird, of Aima, the bride of but sixteen days, reached this city on Friday morning of last week. The death was caused by suicide and there appears to be no reason for taking one's life. Mr. Laird left the house in the early morning, leaving Mrs. Laird with a slight headache, to return only to find that she had taken her life by means of hanging in one of the nearby buildings. It is thought that she became despondent of temporarily insane and committed the deed. The remains were brought to this city Friday evening and the burial services were held Saturday afternoon with the Rev. Beebe officiating. Burial was made in the Chester cemetery.

Galata.

[Received too late for last week]

Galata, Montana, April 12.—A sad fatality happened in town this week. J. N. Pfeffer was struck and instantly killed by a passing freight train. The accident was an exceedingly unfortunate one. Mr. Pfeffer, who was an elderly gentleman, had just been shipped in from Moscow, Idaho, and on the morning of the accident was loaded up and ready to go to his claim, but having forgotten something he wanted from the south side of the Great Northern tracks went for it and in returning jumped from between the stock cars standing on the siding just as the freight passed through. He leaves a wife and family, three of his sons having claims north of this town. An inquest was held in the afternoon. Dr. Almas of Havre and Dr. Curtiss of Galata performing the autopsy. In a catastrophe of this kind a great part of the blame lies on the railroad. No train of any description should be allowed to run through a populous town at the rate of speed attained by this particular train.
Dick Richardson Joins The Silent Majority

J. R. Richardson, familiarly known as "Dick," and who has made Chester his home for several years past, died Sunday evening at 9 o'clock.

Dick has been a familiar figure on our streets, and was a rather bright man intellectually when not fighting booze. He has been cooking on the numerous ranches in this vicinity and it has been his custom and seemingly one ambition, to "fill up" whenever he came to town. He came in from his last job a couple of weeks ago, and, after his customary spree, became ill, and during the last few days had been attended by Dr. Melvin, who advised taking him to a hospital. This was all arranged for, and it was the intention to take him on train No. 4 Sunday evening, but it happened that the train was three hours late and just before its arrival, the spirit of Old Dick took its flight from this terrestrial sphere.

It has always been claimed that Dick was born of blue blood and that a brother of his is at present an English lord, but he would not disclose anything on that subject and there was nothing in his effects that would tend to enlighten us. Interment was made Monday in the temporary cemetery.

Peace be to Old Dick, may his career in the world he has just entered be more benign than the one just departed.
George Robinson

Apparently with many years of life ahead of him, the subject of this article came to Chester about three weeks ago, suffering from what was presumed to be some slight disorders that would soon be remedied, but after a week here, it was decided to have him go to the Fort Benton hospital where he could have the best of treatment. On Tuesday of last week he was taken to the hospital by Bret Smith and on Friday night the grim reaper cut him down in the 48th year of his age.

Mr. Robinson and family came here about eight years ago from North Carolina and soon afterwards took up a claim near Whitlash. Dame Fortune seemed to favor him and he owned about a thousand acres of fine land at the time of his death.

Mr. Robinson leaves a widow and eight children, the oldest daughter being the wife of Tom Manis. Interment was made at Fort Benton on Monday.

The bereaved family have the sympathy of everybody in this hour of sorrow.
Two Boys Die of Exposure

Word was received in Great Falls yesterday afternoon that two boys by the name of Schultz had been found in the hills 20 miles north of Fort Benton dead from exposure. Both bodies were taken to Fort Benton where they were prepared for burial.

From what can be learned the boys left their home last Tuesday morning for a hunting trip in the hills of that vicinity. They had not gone far before it began to snow and in their attempt to return home both became bewildered and wandered around in the hills until they were overcome with hunger and cold.

On account of the family having resided there only a short time it was impossible for The Tribune to learn the given names of the dead boys. One was 14 years of age while the other was 11.

When found the youngest boy was lying on his face, with his brother's hand under his left arm. Both bodies were badly decomposed, and notwithstanding the fact that they had been there for several days, neither had been touched by wild animals.

A representative from McCullister's undertaking parlors left for Fort Benton last evening to care for the bodies.

It was understood at a late hour this morning that both bodies will be made near the old home. — Great Falls Tribune.
