Clara Bolma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Bolma, died Saturday May 29, at her parents home north of Lothair.

She suffered from an attack of influenza last winter and never fully recovered, and later developed into an attack of quincy, which caused her death. Apparently she seemed to recover, but on Friday evening she was taken suddenly ill and at six o'clock Saturday morning she passed away at the age of 14 years and 10 months.

She leaves to mourn her loss father and mother, three brothers and two sisters.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the Blair school house, Rev. Benson officiating.—Galata Journal.
LOTHAIR YOUNG LADY COMMITS SUICIDE

Sixteen Year Old Jessie Diemert Resorts to Strychnine While in Despondent Mood.

What an appalling thing is suicide! All the more terrible when a dear young girl of sixteen years deliberately makes up her mind to put an end to all earthly affairs and launch her soul into the great unknown; perhaps of some fancied wrong or some unkind word uttered by a father or mother who loves her with an undying love, but who honestly believes that a word of parental advice should be given.

The above all happened on Wednesday night at the home of Ike Diemert, who lives on a farm north of Lothair and the victim of the rash act was his daughter, Jessie, a beautiful girl of sixteen years.

The day's work was about over, the mother having gone to the barn to milk the cows; the father doing some light work about the place, and on returning to the house they found their daughter sitting by a table, and as they came complained of not feeling well; and on being questioned by her mother, admitted she had taken a deadly poison. First aid was given immediately but nothing could be done to save her as the poison had had time to get in its work.

Jessie Diemert was born in Canada and moved to Lothair with her parents about ten years ago remaining here until the time of her death. She is well known about our city and has a host of friends who regret to hear of her pasing. Besides her mother and father she leaves two small brothers to mourn her loss. Funeral arrangements have not been made so far but it is believed interment will be made in the local cemetery of Lothair.

The family have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community.

MRS. ARTHUR FEY

(Galata Journal)

This community was certainly shocked this week when the news came from Great Falls that Mrs. Arthur Fey of Gold Butte, passed away last Friday in that city after having given birth to a child two weeks previous.

THROWN UNDER DRILL BY A RUNAWAY ON HIS FARM IN MONTANA

James Gillespie, a resident of this county for the greater part of his life, and a member of a family well known in Spencer and vicinity, was killed November 3rd, a week ago today, by an accident on his farm two miles north of Lothair, Montana.

A telegram from his widow to his father, D. C. Gillespie, of Spencer, said that four horses ran away with a drill that James Gillespie was driving and he fell under the drill. She was unable to lift the heavy machine and her husband and had to go all the way to Lothair to find help. When they got back to him it was too late.

Mrs. James Gillespie and Ed Gillespie, a brother living in another part of Montana, reached Spencer with the body Monday afternoon on the M. & St. L.

James Edson Gillespie was born at Clear Lake, Iowa, April 30, 1870, the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Gillespie. His parents moved to a farm in Lake township, Clay county, a few months after James grew up on the farm and became a farmer himself. He was deputy sheriff of this county for a time. He moved to Montana in 1910. He was married on June 19, 1907 to Miss Adelaide Rowan of St. Charles, Minnesota, who survives him. He left three sons, Reginald and Donald, university students at Missoula, Montana, and Dean, in high school at Shelby, Montana. Donald was recently graduated from the Spencer schools. He is also survived by his parents, a brother, Ed, who is in Montana and a brother Roy and sisters, Mrs. C. E. Loomer and Mrs. Lester Winn, residing in this county.

James Gillespie was a Mason and a member of Evening Shade Lodge of Spencer. He had a large circle of friends in and around Spencer who are shocked and grieved to learn of his untimely death, and whose sympathy goes out to the bereaved family.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon. There was prayer at the house at two o'clock, after which the remains were taken to Riverside cemetery. The Masons had charge of the services at the cemetery.

Relatives who came to Spencer for the funeral included Dr. W. T. Gillespie and Dr. Ed Gillespie of Peoria, Ill., W. C. Gillespie of Kilbourn, Wis., Earl Gillespie of Grand Marnes, Wis., John Stevens of Gary, S. D., Ray Stevens of Pipestone, Minn., and Arthur Harroun of Mason City, all cousins of James Gillespie, and Mrs. C. J. Stevens of Mason City, a sister of D. C. Gillespie.—Spencer, Iowa Reporter

PROMINENT LOTHAIR FARMER MEETS DEATH

James E. Gillespie, aged 49, a well known farmer living three miles west of Lothair, was accidentally killed Wednesday afternoon about 4 o'clock while seeding winter wheat.

The accident occurred when the tongue of the drill on which he was riding broke throwing him forward under the drill. The horses became frightened and jerked the drill over his body lacerating his face and limbs.

His remains were found under the drill 30 minutes later by his wife, whose attention was directed to the scene by the horses moving aimlessly around the field.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 12:00 Noon at Lothair under the auspices of Galata A. F. & A. M.

James and Reginald Gillespie arrived Saturday from Missoula, having been called home by the death of their father, J. E. Gillespie. Dean arrived from Shelby Thursday. Their many friends sympathize with them in their bereavement. P. P. Gillespie of Malta, a brother of the late J. Gillespie, was here Thursday, but did not remain for the funeral services. He returned to Malta and later left for the East to be with the family at the interment.
FORMER CHESTER GIRL
MEETS HORRIBLE DEATH
Told Parents She Was Hurt Badly and Was Going to Die

The overturning of a concrete bench presented to the State Normal school by the class of 1914 resulted in the death of little six-year-old Ethel Boyd Gregory, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maitland Gregory, at the hospital this morning. The accident happened yesterday morning when the concrete bench was overturned in a wholly unexplainable manner while the little girls were playing on it. The child was crushed internally, and although telling her parents during the night that she was dying bravely held up to the end, throwing her arms about her parents necks, after telling them “I am going,” and asked where, “I’m going east, I am dying.”

The concrete seat was designed by William Tierney, one of the class of 1914. Mr. Tierney made the molds for the seat and the concrete was poured by the local contractor. It was presented during the commencement week exercises in the spring of 1914 and set on concrete piers along the walk between the administration building and the Normal training school.

Little Ethel with her sister Aileen, aged five years and another little girl were playing on the seat before school yesterday morning. Apparently they were hanging on the back of it and the huge concrete affair weighing many hundreds of pounds toppled over backwards covering the legs and stomach of the child.

Mrs. Draper First on Scene
Mrs. O. E. Draper, in the business office, heard a scream and rushed out. It was some time before enough people could arrive to lift the seat off the child. It is so heavy that three men this morning were unable to lift it back off the ground.

The child was first taken into the building, and a doctor summoned. No bruises or cuts were found and the child was taken home. Later she was taken to the hospital in a vain effort to save her life. It was found, however that her internal injuries were general and there could be no chance of saving her life.

The child died this morning just about 24 hours after the accident. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maitland Gregory, residing at 911 N. Water street. Mr. Gregory is an employee of the Northern Pacific car department. They have resided here nearly two years. The little child was born in Chester, Montana, August 19, 1913.

Funeral arrangements have not been made pending the receipt of telegrams from relatives.—Ellensburg (Wash.) Evening Tribune.

WOUNDS CAUSE
DEATH OF EAST
BUTTE RANCHER

A week ago yesterday John Hoel, a farmer living about 30 miles north of Chester was shot by a 30-30 rifle
in the hands of Mrs. James Philipin, the bullet, a soft nose, penetrating both legs between the hips and the knees. He was immediately taken to the Laird ranch and a doctor called. His condition at that time was not considered serious, but he was taken to the Havre hospital that night on No. 2. On Sunday gangrene developed and in a few hours he had passed away. He leaves a wife, who was on her way up from Great Falls
at the time of the shooting.

On Wednesday a warrant was issued from the county attorney's office charging Mrs. Philipin with murder, and she was given a preliminary hearing that afternoon before the Justice of the Peace A. A. Pond. It developed at the hearing, according to the testimony of the defendant that about two weeks prior to the shooting,
that Mr. Hoel had assaulted her. Mr.
Hoel had been employed by Mr. Philipin at his ranch for the past year or more as a hired man and had been staying at the Philipin house more or less. On the day the deed was commited Mr. Hoel had come over to the Philipin ranch after some of his personal belongings and some of them being in the house he was told by Mr.
Philipin to go in and get them. Shortly after he entered he kitchen he was shot and according to the reports, Mr.
Hoel said that it was accidental, and maintained that until his death.

After the preliminary hearing the court bound her over to the district court and placed her bail at $5000.00
which was immediately secured by Harry Flynn and Wm. J. Wallace going on the bond.

Norris, Hurd, Rhodes and Hauge
have been retained by the defendant and Mr. O. C. Hauge was up from Havre yesterday to be present at the preliminary hearing. The public was not admitted, as it was not a trial court, but merely the defendant placing her testimony. The trial will come up during the next jury term of court.
