RESPECTED PIONEER DIES

Otto Magnus Amundson passed to the Great Beyond Sunday morning, December 9, at his home at Joplin, following a malady which during the past year so sapped his strength that death was inevitable.

Mr. Amundson was born in Christiania, Norway on August 11, 1860. He came to America in 1892 and located at Westby, Wisconsin, where he was united in marriage to Miss Carrie Holt on August 4, 1895. They with the children came to Joplin in 1910 and homesteaded 4 miles north of Joplin. In connection with his farming, for several years he also kept a meat market in Joplin.

Beside the good and true wife and helpmate for the past 33 years, several children are left, who mourn the loss of a reverend and kindly father. They are Mrs. Walter Jensen, Proctor, Montana, Sigurd, who is clerk in the office of the treasurer of this county, Viola, who is employed in the Sherburne Mercantile company at Browning, and Lief, who is at home.

He was a member of the M. W. A. and in good standing for the past 30 years. The lodge sent a beautiful floral piece.

Funeral services were held in the Lutheran church at Joplin yesterday afternoon by Rev. O. S. Rygg, and interment was made in the Joplin cemetery.

We join with the many friends in extending our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family.

LESLEY ELTON, GALATA

KILLED BY NUMBER ONE

Cutbank, Oct. 12 -- Leslie Elton, the 15 year old son of Wallen Elton of Galata was instantly killed at that place Thursday afternoon by Great Northern train No. 1. He had just got out of school and borrowed an automobile in which he started for Willow creek to get some water, according to a report reaching here. While passing over the railroad crossing on his way to the stream near the depot, the auto stopped on the main track in front of the oncoming train. The car was struck broadside, smashing it. The train was stopped and when picked up the young man was dead. Scarcely a mark could be seen on the body. The body was removed to his parents home a short distance from the scene of the accident.
Cut Bank, Nov. 26. Apparently despondent over an occurrence at a dance, Mrs. Emma Ennis, 33, swallowed a small quantity of strychnine early Sunday morning and died in the arms of her husband within a few minutes at the Ennis farm home north of here.

According to the husband's statement, the couple had attended a dance at the Jacobsen school house and had left for home shortly after midnight. On the arrival at the Ennis home, Mr. Ennis decided to return to the dance and his wife requested he place the car in the garage and remain at home. Following his persistence that he return to the school house, Mrs. Ennis made no further objection.

Returning to the home about 5 a.m., Mr. Ennis found his wife lying on the floor apparently in great agony. She was still conscious and repeatedly called the name of her mother. She admitted taking the poison and after some persuasion took several antidotes hastily prepared by her husband. The antidotes brought no relief, however, and the woman died in her husband's arms within a half hour.

Two letters were found on a table, one addressed to Mr. Ennis and the other to her mother. The contents of the letters was not divulged.

County officials directed the body be removed to this city and as yet have not ordered an inquest. Under present arrangements burial will be conducted at Pittsburgh, the former home of Mrs. Ennis. The husband, Mrs. D. F. McCaffrey of Pittsburgh; her mother; and Dominick McCaffrey, a brother, also of Pittsburgh, survive.

The couple formerly resided at Joplin, Montana. Mr. Ennis has been employed on the Blackfeet reservation by the Blackfoot Cattle company, and came here to occupy the Ronald Hanson ranch for the winter.

LOCAL SECRETARY KILLED BY AUTO

Havre, Nov. 21.—Mrs. Eleanor O'Brien, executive secretary of the Hill County Chapter of the American Red Cross, was instantly killed early that evening at Pacific Junction, four miles west of Havre, when she was struck by an automobile driven by C. C. Moody.

Mrs. O'Brien, accompanied by her niece, Mrs. Eleanor Thompson of Minneapolis, who was visiting her, was en route to near Kremlin, taking some clothing to an unfortunate family, the needs of which had been reported to the Red Cross.

Just as the car went down the west side of the hill at the junction, there was a blow out on the left front tire, and Mrs. O'Brien drove the car to the extreme right side or north side of the road and proceeded to change the tire, using the light of her car and a flash light to give the necessary light.

The ground was slightly covered with snow, the sky clear and the moon was shining brightly. The task of changing the tire was practically completed when the accident occurred.

red. Mrs. Thompson was standing in front of the car.

Moody, in company with James Melville and Carl Gill, employees of the Rockwell cafe, was returning from a hunting trip north of Gildford, and evidently was traveling at a high rate of speed.

The lights of their car, it is alleged, were visible on the hill before they crossed the Montana Central branch on the Roosevelt highway and started toward the junction. They evidently were coming with tremendous speed and when almost upon the Red Cross car, Mrs. Thompson jumped back, fearing she might be struck.

Mrs. O'Brien was struck and thrown a considerable distance, and it is believed from the bruises on the body that she died instantly. After hitting her the car struck the door of the Ford and bent it and broke the glass, knocking the car back several feet.

She was executive secretary in Chouteau county before being transferred to Havre to cover the counties of Hill, Blaine, Liberty and Chouteau. During part of September and October she was on a vacation with relatives in Minnesota and returning early this month was accompanied by her niece, Mrs. Thompson, who was with her when the tragic death occurred.

SAMUEL MARION STRICKLER

The community received a severe shock Saturday afternoon when the word went around that Samuel Strickler had taken his life at his farm just a short distance north of town.

For some time past Mr. Strickler has been in poor health, and combined with financial worries so preyed upon his mind, that after his wife had gone to Lothair, he took a 22 calibre rifle, went to a straw stack near the house and shot himself in the right temple.

About 5 o’clock, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Ballou drove out to assist with the chores, and upon entering the house and finding no one there they looked about the premises. They then noticed the family dog near the stack, and going there discovered the body.

Sheriff Morgan and Coroner Layton were immediately sent for, but Mr. Layton being away on business, Justice A. A. Pond, was acting coroner. It was decided beyond a doubt that he had shot himself, and the remains were then brought to Lothair.

Samuel Marion Strickler was born in Pennsylvania and was 63 years, 3 months and 2 days of age.

He leaves to mourn their loss of a kind father and husband, a wife and two sons, Walter and Glynn, and two daughters, Mrs. Edgar Ballou and one daughter residing in Washington.

The body was prepared for shipment to Colfax, Washington, where it will be laid to rest in that cemetery.

The whole community sympathize with the bereaved ones in their hour of deep sorrow.

HELEN MAJESKY

Was born in Bingham, Germany, Feb. 6, 1883. Died at Chester, Montana, February 5, 1923. So was lacking but one day of being 40 years of age at the time of her death.

She was married to Carl Sube, in Berlin, Germany, May 13, 1905, and to this union was born three children. The first of these, a little girl, named Gertrude, died in Germany at the age of nine months. Alfred, also born in Germany, is now a student in the public schools of Chester. And little Irvin, a babe of fourteen months, are all that is left to the father, of kindred on this side of the world.

Mrs. Sube came with her husband, and son, to America in March 1912, and at first located in North Dakota. In May 1916, the family came on to Montana, and about a year ago they located in Chester, where Mr. Sube, has since been in the employ of F. A. Bachler in the mercantile business.

About a year ago, Mrs. Sube was taken with the affliction, which baffling all the skill of the physician, and surgeon, finally terminated in her death.

Mrs. Sube was brought up in the Lutheran church and remained in that communion till her death. But like many others, as the end drew near, and she saw the things of time and of the flesh slipping away, she looked beyond as she had never before. Her faith was quickened, and for several weeks, the God of our refuge, became her whole reliance and hope.

Toward morning of February fifth, as Mr. Bachler was taking his turn on watch, in an adjoining room, she called him and asked for water and then told him that she had just had a Divine visitation, and that He had told her that He was coming for her that day. Mr. Bachler not knowing what else to say, disputed the suggestion and tried to reassure her. But she steadfastly insisted that God was about to call her away. During the forenoon she gave directions to her family, bade them farewell and just after noon she slipped gently away to be at peace and rest with God, leaving her husband and children and a circle of devoted friends to mourn their loss.
