NICK BARBIE WAS ROBBED; SLAIN, AND HIS BODY HID UNDER A PILE OF BRUSH

The sad news was received Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Barbie of the country north of Inverness that the body of their dead son, Nick, had been found under a pile of brush near the Fort Lewis military reservation near Tacoma, Wash., on Friday. But little information has been available up to this time. The two following news reports from Seattle newspaper point to robbery as the motive for his murder.

"Tacoma, Feb. 21.—With the body of a man found buried under a moss and brush covering near the Fort Lewis military reservation, identified as that of Nick Barbie, lumber mill worker, police today attempted to learn the cause of his death.

"No external wounds were visible, but the manner in which the body had been secreted made officials certain he had met with foul play.

"Barbie disappeared three months ago, relatives said. He had been in the habit of carrying more than $100 at all times and a valuable watch. It was believed he had been slain for his money and the body buried in the isolated spot.

"His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Barbie, visited Tacoma from their home at Inverness, Montana, two months ago in search of their son."

The second story reads:

"Tacoma, Feb. 22.—Search for a man suspected of having killed Nick Barbie, whose body was found yesterday concealed in the brush on the Ft. Lewis reservation was being conducted today.

"Officers are working on the theory that Barbie was robbed and slain at the time of his disappearance here at Thanksgiving time. His watch and wallet are missing."

at Havre Since the First of December, 1924; In State for Many Years

Clinton G. Bishop, owner and publisher of the Hill County Democrat at Havre, passed away about five o'clock Friday morning following an operation performed Thursday. He has been in poor health for some time.

"Clint" Bishop, as he was known by his associates, has been the owner and publisher of the Hill County Democrat for the past four years, taking that paper over December 1st, 1924, from J. K. Bramble. When the news organ was taken over by Mr. Bishop it was in a run down condition. During his time of ownership many changes have been made in the plant, which he made it modern in every respect.

C. G. Bishop was born in Clayton county, Iowa, December 9th, 1887. Shortly after his birth, the family moved to Elkader, Iowa, where his home was established. He entered the grade school there and also finished his high school education in the same town. He is a graduate of Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa.

Following his graduation from the university he came to Montana and established a law office at Great Falls. He practiced there for a few months and was admitted as a member of the bar association of the state. He and his brother, Max, bought the Choteau Acantha at Choteau, Montana. He then moved to Shelby and bought the Promoter of that city in 1915. He was the editor of that paper for five years, selling out to J. F. Kavanaugh the present owner. He then took over the Cutbank Pioneer Press and ran that paper for six months before going to Havre to take over the Democrat.

EDITOR ELLIS CALLED BY DEATH OF FATHER

Word was received at noon today by Editor F. T. Ellis of the Chester Reporter, of the death last night of his father, Frank Ellis at White Sulphur Springs. Cause of death probably was from pneumonia and old age, he being approaching his 88th year—on January 27.

Mr. Ellis has been a resident of Montana since the early part of 1866, and was truly one of the real old timers of Montana. He followed mining for several years at Last Chance (Helena), York, Cave Gulch and Frenchtown. In July 1870 he took his first bunch of cattle to the Smith River valley, locating near White Sulphur Springs.

Editor Ellis leaves tonight to go to White Sulphur Springs to attend the funeral and also to visit a day or two with other relatives.

In the meantime we ask our readers to be lenient with us if we neglect our work here, but as Arnold Olson, of Joplin, a former editor of this newspaper is being prevailed upon to act in our stead until our return, we have no misgivings but what things will go well during our absence.—Cheter Reporter, Jan. 4th.

ACCIDENTAL DISCHARGE OF RIFLE BRINGS DEATH AND INJURY TO BOYS

HAROLD ERICKSON AND MELVIN CARLSON INJURED BY BULLET FROM LOADED RIFLE IN CAR; HAROLD PASSES AWAY AS RESULT OF LOSS OF BLOOD AND SHOCK; HOPES ARE ENTERAINED FOR RECOVERY OF MELVIN CARLSON IN HAVRE HOSPITAL; ENTIRE COMMUNITY IS SADDENED BY ACCIDENT

A terrible accident occurred Wednesday afternoon about 4:10 o'clock when two boys—Harold Erickson, aged 14 years, and Melvin Carlson, aged 12 years, were shot thru the legs by the accidental discharge of a 30-30 rifle. As a result, Harold Erickson passed away at the Deaconess hospital in Havre at 7:00 A. M. Thursday.

The two boys, with the rest of the cast of the play—"Kid's Awakening"—which the Joplin Boy Scouts were to have put on that evening, had been rehearsing and preparing for the event in the Woodman hall most of the day. At the time of the accident few were there, Mr. Miller, assistant principal, the two boys who were shot and Errol Fossen, who had just returned from an errand driving his father, Under Sheriff Fossen's car. Harold had two heavy suitcases belonging to his sister, Miss Nina Erickson who had come home that morning. Harold had carried them as far as the hall and called to the Fossen boy and asked him if he would take them to the Erickson home in the car for him.

Errol assented and swung the back door of the car open as the Erickson and Carlson boys brought the cases and threw them into the back of the car where Deputy Sheriff Fossen's 30-30 rifle was lying unknown to the boys. The suitcase must have hit the trigger in such a manner as to cause the gun to discharge, and, as Harold stood directly in front of the car door and Melvin just behind him, the bullet passed through Harold's leg above the knee, shattering both bones and leaving a hole as large as your fist where it went out, and then into the leg of the Carlson boy at about the same place, lodging in the leg and making only a flesh wound, but not injuring him so badly.

Mr. Miller rushed to the door of the hall when some frightened child had called to him and seeing the terrible sight hurriedly, with the aid of Errol Fossen, carried the boys into the hall and proceeded to make them as comfortable as possible with what few coats and wraps that were left, while Mrs. Fossen, telephone operator, was frantically calling for Dr. Price at Chester, who was hard to locate.

About that time Prof. James came to the hall and immediately went to the telephone office and insisted on several messengers being sent for Dr. Price whom they finally located and who was on the scene in 40 or 45 minutes after the accident, which seemed hours to those waiting.

In the meantime, Prof. James, Mr. Miller and Chas. Wardell, who had, upon seeing the commotion, come over from the Boring garage, applied first aid to Harold Erickson who was bleeding profusely, by binding the injured leg with a tourniquet which stented the flow of blood. Other Boy Scouts rushed bedding to the hall and both injured boys made as comfortable as possible under the circumstances, and as soon as Dr. Price had dressed the wounds, brought stretchers and did every thing possible for their injured comrades.

G. N. Agent Brenman wired No. 4 which was late that day to stop and the boys were taken to the depot where the waiting room was very warm and every aid possible was rendered.

There was a large crowd of sympathetic neighbors, Boy Scouts, and companions gathered in and around the depot who waited with the boys and their grief stricken relatives until the train came, about 9 o'clock.

Just as they were putting the stretcher which bore Harold Erickson on the train he called back, "Good-bye, everybody," which showed what a brave Scout he was.

Dr. Price, Mrs. Carlson, Mrs. Erickson and daughter Nina accompanied the boys to the Havre Deaconess hospital.

The community was doubly shocked yesterday morning by receipt of the intelligence that Harold had died at 7 A. M., despite the transfusion of a pint of his sister's blood made at about 10 o'clock Wednesday evening, and death had taken place during a second transfusion. The sister, Miss Nina was ordered to bed for six hours.

The funeral will be held from the Joplin Lutheran church Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

While no official information has come, it is learned that Melvin Carlson is in good condition and no fears are entertained as to his recovery, unless some unforeseen complication set in.

SORROWING FRIENDS PAY LAST TRIBUTE TO YOUTH

The funeral of Harold Erickson, who was accidentally shot last Wednesday, was held in the Lutheran church of this city, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Engh preached a very good sermon which was consoling to the bereaved parents and relatives and in which he made an appeal to the young friends of the deceased to, like Harold, seek Jesus only. The services were beautiful.

The floral gifts from the many friends who knew and loved Harold were marvelous. They were of carnations, in all the brilliant shades of red, pink, cerise and white; and roses of different colors, all embedded in a background of lovely green ferns. The red, cerise, and pink carnations were banked above and about the casket with the white ones at the top of a beautiful gates ajar. There was also a lovely pillow with the word, 'Brother' across it, and many large sprays.

The large church was packed to the doors and out into the vestibule with sympathetic friends. Six of the Boy Scout acted as pall bearers.

CLIFFORD HARRISON DROWNED IN RIVER NEAR CASCADE

Associated press dispatches of Monday carried the news of the death by drowning of Clifford Harrison, former resident of the north country, who, with a companion disappeared Sunday afternoon from a canoe ride down the river hunting ducks. The men did not show up at Cascade, and searching parties have been seeking their bodies since. Wednesday's dispatches say:

Three crews were searching today for the bodies of three Great Falls young men, drowned in the Missouri river within 24 hours of each other. They were Cliff Harrison and Otto Gerson, drowned when their canoe tipped over, and Everett Applegate, pitched into the stream by a caving bank.

Applegate, Jack Kelly and another man were creeping up on some geese when the bang caved. Applegate and Kelly were thrown into the river. Kelly swam out but Applegate floated down the river for 300 feet and sank, weighted by heavy waders. Kelly went in after him but could not reach him.

JOHN KANTOROWICZ VICTIM OF RIFLE ACCIDENT SUNDAY

John Kantorowicz, age 18, died at 8 o'clock Sunday evening as the result of a gunshot wound received about 3 in the afternoon while placing a 25-20 rifle in a sled. In some manner the rifle was discharged, the bullet striking him in the left temple, crushing the skull.

John, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanislaus Kantorowicz who live about 20 miles southeast of town, had gone to the Frank Petlock place to assist Anton Kolski with some work and was placing his rifle in the sled preparatory to going home when the accident occurred. He was taken to his home and Joe Anderson left immediately for town to get Dr. Price. They arrived at the Kantorowicz home at 6 o'clock Monday morning, the condition of the rads being so bad that it was necessary to make the trip by sled.

Services were held at the Catholic Church at 11 o'clock Tuesday and interment was made in the local cemetery.

John was the oldest of a family of 11 children and was a student at Joplin High school two years ago.

JOHN KANTOROWICZ MEETS ACCIDENTAL DEATH

The word, contained in a press dispatch to the Great Falls Tribune from Chester under date of February 25th, of the death of John Kantorowicz, a former Joplin high school boy and an employee of The Liberty County Farmer during his odd moments for two years, caused grief to all who had known John while here. Many expressions of sympathy for the bereaved parents and sisters and brothers were heard.

The dispatch says: "John Kantorowicz, 18, died here from a gunshot wound received while hunting.

"His rifle was lying in the back of the sled on which he was riding and was accidentally discharged, when he pulled it out to shoot, the bullet passing through his head."

It was learned that John had been at a neighbor's house, Frank Vetlock, and upon getting ready to return to his home, he was putting his rifle in the back of the sled when it was discharged in some unaccountable manner and the bullet entered his left temple, crushing through his skull. The sorely wounded youth was removed to his home and the doctor sent for. The accident occurred at 3 P. M. Sunday, and he lived until 8 o'clock that night. Doctor Price was unable to get to the farm until 6 the next morning on account of the deep snow.

The funeral was held at 11:00 A. M. Tuesday morning from the Catholic church in Chester.

BROTHER OF MRS. DEHINDEN IS DROWNED NEAR HOBSON WHILE BATHING IN LAKE

Mrs. Frank Dehinden received the sad news this week of the death from being drowned of her brother, Frank Weber, while bathing in Ackley lake, seven miles southwest of Hobson. Weber was being towed through the water at the end of a rope attached to a motor boat in which several friends of his were riding. He lost his hold upon the rope and becoming exhausted called to the others to return.

Warren Raitt leaped into the water to aid him but Weber struggled so desperately that Raitt could not support him. For some time diving was resorted to but he could not be located for some time and then he was brought to the surface with the aid of a hook.

Failing to resuscitate him by first aid methods he was placed in an automobile and hurried to Moore. Not finding a physician there he was taken on to Lewistown where physicians found that life had been extinct for some time. The body is at the Creel undertaking establishment in Lewistown.

Weber had lived in the Hobson community for several years and had been employed this summer on the P. K. Hoven ranch. His father, Peter Weber, died last March. He leaves three sisters, Mrs. Margaret Dahinden of Jolin, Mrs. Rose Helscher of Kellog, Minn., and Mrs. Tillie Wunderlich of Chicago; three brothers, Herbert and Paul of Chicago and Walter, who lives at the Ackley lake ranch, and his stepmother, Mrs. Ottellia Weber of Hobson.
