ACCIDENTALY SHOOTS SELF RIDING HORSE

George Strode of Whitlash Dies of Wound, Large Funeral Havre on Sunday.

One of our popular Young Men

The even tenor of Liberty County life was rudely startled when news of the untimely death of George Strode, 26, became general.

He had been at Goldstone for a few days and on his way back to his home in the Hills stopped over at the home of Lewis Nerem north of Rudyard over Thursday night.

While Nerem and a neighbor were out in the Nerem garden planting a few potatoes Friday morning for a half hours work the accident happened although no sound of the shot had reached them. When they returned they found young Strode lying sorely wounded; the bullet from a 22 rifle he had been carrying had entered his head above the left ear.

A phone call reached Sheriff Timmons and Dr. McKenzie, but before they reached the scene of the accident he had died. From appearances the officers concluded that the deceased was the victim of accidental shooting.

He was immediately taken to the offices of Holland and Bonine at Havre where the body was prepared for burial.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon and the body laid to rest in the cemetery at that place.

High regard was paid the Strode family in the large number of people from Liberty County who attended the funeral ceremonies.

George Strode is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Strode of Whitlash and one of the oldest and best known of the families of the Sweet Grass Hills district. The young man leaves to mourn his death besides his parents, two sisters, Mrs. Eva Melvin of Great Falls, Montana, and Mrs. Delaney of Los Angeles.

The wound was self-inflicted, the cause having passed through his temple.

ANOTHER MAN DOWNED WITH RECKLESS GAS

Albin Zanda Suffered Serious Burns. Taken to Hospital

Another case of exploding distillate and the third of its kind in this community in the course of the past two years, was visited upon the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Zanda. While dumping a few spurts of distillate on the kindling in his kitchen stove Monday evening about 5 o'clock, the stuff exploded in the stove, igniting the two or three gallons that remained in the can which he held in his hands.

The concussion was so violent that it blew the bottom out of the bottom of the can against his breast, spattering burning gas all over his clothes, setting him on fire from head to foot. Before he could get out of his clothes he was severely burned, about two-thirds of his body being badly burned and scorched. He was immediately brought to town where Dr. Hough attended to his injuries, referring to the hospitals at Havre where his case is receiving attention.
