Axel Carlson Killed When
Truck Overturns on Road

Thursday morning funeral services were announced. Services will be held from the Lutheran church in Joplin at two o'clock Saturday afternoon, after which the body will be brought to Chester and burial services will be in the Chester cemetery.

The accident was one of the worst to occur in this county in many months, and was a distinct shock to the many friends of the family.

Axel Carlson was born on a farm north of Joplin, March 27, 1911, and spent his entire life in this community. He attended school here and at Joplin. After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Carlson established their home on a farm three miles southeast of town.

Deceased was an industrious, up-right young man, and had a wide circle of friends and acquaintances throughout the county. He was a successful young farmer, and this year had a large crop on his place near town, and also on land near Joplin. His tragic death is sincerely mourned by all who knew him, and the stricken family have the sincere sympathy and condolence of the entire community.

He is survived by his parents, Algot and Anna (Handsford) Carlson; his wife, a sister, Mrs. Jack Minnihan of Columbia Falls; and three brothers, Eric of Tekoa, Wash., Melvin of Inverness, and Ervin of Joplin.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR CAR ACCIDENT VICTIM

A large number of the friends and associates of Axel Carlson who was accidentally killed when his truck overturned two miles southwest of Joplin Tuesday night of last week, attended funeral services for the deceased at the Lutheran church in Joplin last Saturday afternoon. The body was brought to Chester following the church services, and laid to rest in the cemetery here.

It is believed that the accident was caused by the steering wheel on the truck locking. The accident occurred on a straight road, and if the wheel locked, as it is now thought, the truck was suddenly thrown from the road and overturned. The truck had been used for several years, and had given trouble in the steering apparatus before, giving rise to the belief that this was the cause of the fatal accident.

She had a very pleasing and cheerful disposition, was a good mother, fond neighbor and an honest friend to many.
The life of Joe Teel, respected and popular young man of the Chester community, was snuffed out in an airplane crash forty-five miles southwest of Chester about eight o'clock Sunday evening, June 24th, when one of the wings on the plane he was flying crumpled at an altitude of about 2000 feet and the ship plummeted to earth.

The accident occurred near the Ray Woods ranch, thirty miles east of Brady, in Choteau county, while six friends were watching.

Teel left Chester Friday night, flying the plane to the Woods ranch, intending to do some work on the engine and tune up the plane preparatory to doing some stunt flying at the Stampede celebration here over the coming week-end. He had completed the work on the engine, and had been doing some practice stunting with the ship during the afternoon. Just before the fatal accident he was in the air with Eddie Olson, a close friend and associate, and after several tests had made a safe landing. He decided, however, to make one more flight and when up a distance estimated at about two thousand feet, went into a power dive. He was coming out of the dive, with the nose of the ship pointed upward, when the right wing crumpled and folded back against the fuselage. With the wing gone, the driver had no control of the machine, and it spun and pointed earthward like a rocket, crashing into the ground with a terrible impact.

The ignition switch had been thrown off before the impact, and no fire resulted. The body, while entangled in the wreckage, was not badly mangled. Six friends and helpers, who had been assisting during the afternoon and watching the tests, witnessed the tragic incident.

Chouteau county authorities were notified at once, and the coroner and other officials went out and recovered the body. The remains were taken to Chouteau, where a thorough investigation was held. Funeral arrangements were not completed until relatives were heard from.

Teel had bought the plane, a Waco two seater, several years ago, and had about sixty hours flying time. He was not a licensed pilot. The plane was brought to the state in 1928 by Earl Vance, pioneer pilot.

Joe Teel was about twenty-eight years of age at the time of his passing. He was born and raised on a ranch thirty miles east of Brady, near the scene of his death. His mother died when he was quite young, and he had been on his own most of the time since he was twelve or fifteen years of age.

A few years ago he went to Opheim, in the eastern part of the state, where he was engaged in the garage and automobile business with Steve Bowen, now of Chester. About two years ago he and Mr. Bowen came to Chester and took over the Chevrolet garage, Teel having charge of the shop. Last summer he opened a shop of his own in Chester, the Motor Home garage, on the highway, which he operated up to the time of his death. He was unmarried.

Known surviving relatives include the father, who was near Lewistown at the time of the tragedy, and three brothers, one living at Carter and the other two thought to be living in the state of Washington or some other state on the coast.

Funeral services were held at ten o'clock Wednesday morning from the Catholic church in Fort Benton. A large number of friends and former associates from Chester attended the services.

Residents of Chester contributed generously to providing a floral wreath in memory of Joe Teel. The huge floral offering was in the shape of an airplane.

CHOOSES LAST FRONTIER

William Townshend was born at San Francisco August 8, 1884 and at the age of twelve years his family moved with him to Reno, Nevada. At the age of 13 his mother died and two years later he left home to shift for himself. His travelogue found him at Butte for a short time, then he drifted into the employ of the stock firm of Poindexter and Orr, and it was for this firm in 1903 that he came into the Sweet Grass Hills and took up the homestead upon which he continued to live until the time of his death.

Here he met and married Miss Emily Bingham who passed away in 1908 and lies buried in the cemetery at Spokane.

William Townshend was one of a now rapidly disappearing type of plainsman---one of those restless spirits who push back frontiers and revel in the dare and adventure of living, of life's activities and of the unknown future.

He is said to have drove the first herd of Longhorns into Liberty County and had an important part in establishing the high reputation of the Hills as a grazing country and a Mecca for cattlemen.

"Bill" was as well known for his sterling integrity and sense of duty as for a peculiar quiet humor that ran like threads of gold through and through his conversation. A calm dignity clothed his mannerisms and drew to him the respect and esteem of his community.

He lived at the top of the distant Hills and delighted in moving about the landscape below; and it was while thus his yard looking down upon the land occupied his heart failed and he fell looking out over the vast panoramas of prairies and plains sweeping on to the sunset.

His passing sent tremors of remorse quivering through the homes of his neighborhood, and the friends gathered into hear the last farewells of the pastor, strew his corte with flowers and drop a silent sigh to his memory; then he was whisked away over the mountains, and laid down to his final resting place by the side of his wife in the graveyard at Spokane.
