MRS. HENRY BASSFORD PASSES FOLLOWING LINGERING ILLNESS

Mrs. Henry E. Bassford, prominent matron of the Chester community for a number of years, passed away at the family home at 1:30 a.m. on Friday morning, March 1, following a lingering illness.

Death came as a relief to a long and patient period of suffering, and was not unexpected by members of the family and a large circle of sympathizing friends. Last July Mrs. Bassford was taken ill, and was taken to a leading surgeon in Spokane who diagnosed the affliction as a cancerous growth. Everything humanly possible was done to stay the ravages of the disease, but to no avail, and for weeks the inevitable end was certain.

Through all the weeks of suffering Mrs. Bassford maintained her courageous patience, and it was only a few days before her passing that she expressed to her family the conviction that the end was not far distant. To the very end she maintained her uncomplaining attitude and patience, and when the final summons came she passed away peacefully.

Deceased had been a resident of the Chester community since 1937. Coming here with her husband and family from Naples, Idaho, where they had resided for six years. During her residence in Chester Mrs. Bassford made many warm friends, and her passing is sincerely mourned by the many close associates and friends of the family.

The remains were taken to the old home in the Flathead valley, where funeral services were conducted on Monday afternoon in the Campbell Funeral Home, with Rev. Allen, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Kalispell, conducting the services.

Committal services were conducted by the Eastern Star chapter of Columbia Falls, an organization to which deceased had long belonged, and the remains were laid to rest in the beautiful Conrad Memorial cemetery at Kalispell.

A profusion of floral tokens, and a large concourse of sympathizing friends at the funeral services, attested the high esteem in which the departed was held.

MRS. R. BECKNER

CALLED BY DEATH

The community was saddened last Friday evening, when it was learned that Mrs. Robert Keith Beckner, wife of Robert Beckner and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dodds Keith, had passed away following a brief illness of a little less than one week.

The sad news quickly passed through the community, and the dance scheduled for Friday evening in the Community hall was immediately postponed, and expressions of sincerest regret and sorrow were general.

Mrs. Beckner, who had been living with her husband on the Keith ranch north of town most of the time during the winter, was taken suddenly ill early last week, and on Tuesday was brought into town for medical attention. She was suffering from a severe attack of the flu, which developed rapidly into a serious condition, and she grew steadily worse until the end about nine o’clock Friday evening.

She had spent almost her entire lifetime in this community, having graduated from the local high school with the class of 1938. She was married to Robert Beckner on December 15, 1918, and the couple had made their home on the Keith ranch since that time.

She was a charming and lovable character, and her sudden calling is a severe loss to her family and all of their friends. The family have the sincere sympathy and condolence of the entire community.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from the Methodist church in Chester, with Rev. Stuart of Havre delivering the funeral sermon, assisted in the services by Rev. Kuller, pastor of the local church.

A profusion of floral tokens of love and esteem blanked the entire front of the church around the casket, speaking in silent and eloquent terms of the love in which the departed was held.

Several musical numbers were provided by the ladies’ quartet, consisting of Mrs. Fred Brown, Mrs. Frank Eggert, Mrs. T. A. Busey and Miss Loreda Keldrauk, accompanied by Mrs. L. E. Matkin.

J. N. BINGHAM
DIES AT ROCHESTER

James N. Bingham, prominent rancher of the Sweet Grass Hills community for the past thirty years, passed away at the Mayo hospital in Rochester, Minnesota, at 3:30 p.m. on Thursday of last week, August 29th, following an operation for tumor of the brain.

Mrs. Bingham, who was with her husband during the time he spent at Rochester, accompanied the body back to Havre, where it was taken from the train and brought to Conrad Memorial cemetery in that city.

Mr. Bingham had been in poor health for some time, and several weeks ago went to Rochester where his illness was diagnosed as tumor of the brain. He underwent an operation, and was apparently well on the road to recovery, when he suffered a relapse, and had been in a critical condition for the past two or three weeks. News of his passing was not unexpected.

James N. Bingham was born on September 13th, 1881, at Ontario, Canada, being nearly fifty-nine years of age at the time of his death. He is survived by his wife, his mother and one son, Nelson Bingham, and one daughter, Mrs. Olive Roberts, all of Whitlatch.

When a boy he went with his parents to Michigan, where he lived until 1910, when he came to Montana and settled in the Sweet Grass Hills community. He built up a fine stock ranch near Whitlatch, and was among the outstanding and successful ranchmen of the northern part of the county. He was a good neighbor, highly respected, and always took an active part in his community and in county affairs. His passing will be sincerely mourned by a large circle of friends and acquaintances, and the family have the sincere sympathy of the entire community.

He had lived in the Hills country continuously with the exception of two years, when the family resided in Kalispell. He left Chester on July 19th for Rochester and immediately entered the hospital where he remained until the end.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. W. Kuller, pastor of the Chester M. E. church. Music was furnished by a ladies trio composed of Mrs. Frank Power, Mrs. Ralph Ward and Miss Idella Walden, with Mrs. J. W. Kuller as accompanist.
Two lives were snuffed out, four persons badly injured and two cars practically demolished in a car collision on Highway No. 2, just west of Devon and about twenty-five miles west of Chester late Tuesday afternoon, believed to have been indirectly caused by too much drinking.

Peter Pontuso, Havre cook, was killed instantly in the crash, and Jack Blake, proprietor of the Round-up, a Havre night club, died a few hours later in a Shelby hospital from injuries received in the wreck. John Downes, a bartender at the Blake resort, was driving the car, and Mrs. Downes was the fourth passenger. Both were seriously injured.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gregory, of Detroit, Mich., who were driving west, were also seriously but not fatally injured in the crash, and are still in the Shelby hospital. A third car, which had just been passed on the road by the Havre car a short distance west of the wreck, passed the wreckage and went on into Devon and reported the crash, asking that the highway patrol and Toole county officers be notified and that doctors be sent to the scene at once. In the excitement the identity of the third car, which was in no way to blame for the accident, was not obtained, and the car evidently proceeded east after notifying Devon residents of the accident.

The exact cause of the accident is not known, but at the investigation it was learned that the Havre car was proceeding east, and passed another car near the top of the grade just west of Devon. Tracks indicated that the Havre car swerved over to the left side of the road as it approached the Michigan car, and was probably traveling at a high rate of speed. The Michigan driver, seeing the other car approaching on the wrong side of the road, evidently pulled over to the left, and the actual crash occurred on the south side of the road. The Havre car was thrown from the grade, and rolled and skidded for a distance of about 45 feet before coming to a stop. The Michigan car was thrown to the right hand side of the road.

W. H. EARL DIES AT ROCHESTER

William H. Earl, prominent farmer of the community south of the Marias river in Liberty county since 1910, and a member of the board of county commissioners, died early Tuesday morning at a hospital in Rochester, Minn., following an operation.

Wm. Earl Jr. was informed by telegram Tuesday morning of the death of his father, and left on the Empire Builder Tuesday night for Minot, N. Dak., where he expected to meet his mother, who was returning to Chester with the body. Mrs. Earl had been with her husband in Rochester.

Mr. Earl left here about ten days ago for Rochester where he entered the Mayo hospital for observation and treatment for a bladder trouble from which he had been suffering for some time. He later underwent an operation, and was apparently recovering satisfactorily. His condition changed for the worse Tuesday night, and his death came as a surprise and shock to his family and friends.

Deceased came to this community in 1910, from the state of Washington, moving onto a homestead south of the Marias river where he has resided since that time, with the exception of a few winters spent in town while his children were in school. He is survived by one son, Wm. Earl Jr., who also resides in the community south of the river, and three daughters. He was seventy-six years of age at the time of his passing.

When Liberty county was created Wm. H. Earl was appointed as a member of the first board of county commissioners. He was re-elected to that position for two terms, and then declined to become a candidate for a longer service. Early this year he was appointed to membership on the board by Judge C. B. Elwell, to serve out the unexpired term of Russell Keith, deceased. In a recent primary election he filed as a candidate to fill out the unexpired term, and was unopposed in the republican primaries, and no candidate filed against him on the democratic ticket. He was regularly nominated for the two-year unexpired term on the republican ticket, and his name was written in a number of times on the democratic ticket, making him the nominee of both parties.

William H. Earl was one of the most highly respected and trusted men in Liberty county, and enjoyed a wide acquaintanceship and a host of friends. His passing will be sincerely mourned by the entire community, and the family have the sincere sympathy of their many friends in their sad bereavement.

PIONEER RESIDENT DIES

One of the most picturesque careers among the early settlers of this part of Montana came to a close in Chester this week, in the death of Charles (Son) Irwin, who passed away at the Mary Lynn hospital early Tuesday morning, following a lingering illness, at the age of about eighty-five years.

Irwin first came to Montana from Canada, where he had served for some time in the Mounted Police service. After crossing the line, he first landed at the Frank Laird ranch, where he remained for about a month while looking for employment. Mr. Laird does not recall the exact date, but it was some time in the late '90s or the first part of this century. He had remained in this section ever since, working at different ranches and at various occupations. For many years he worked on the Prescott ranches, for Bourne & Hamilton, and many of the other old-time outfits. He was married at one time, but his domestic venture was not successful, and most of the years he lived alone. In later years he worked as a herder, but in his younger days was a good horseman, and at different times rode the range for some of the big cattle outfits.

With the passing of the years his strength waned, and long after his days of usefulness had passed he remained with his former employers, visiting and doing chores for his keep, until he was finally stricken with cancer and became a county charge.

He had no known relatives, but was supposed to have been born in Kentucky. Irwin had been at the Mary Lynn hospital for many months, and death came as a relief to a long period of suffering.

Funeral services will be held from the Methodist church in Chester on Thursday afternoon of this week, with Rev. John W. Kuller in charge. Many of the oldtimers who learned of his passing will be in attendance, and the remains will be laid to rest in the Chester cemetery.

Last September Mr. and Mrs. Morkrid and son, Oliver, went to Seattle, having spent some winters there in previous years. Illness came to Mr. Morkrid more than two years ago, and the last several months he was altogether confined to bed. Death came Saturday, the 20th of April, at the age of 74 years, lacking a few days. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Morkrid; two sons, Iver and Oliver, of Chester; three daughters, Mrs. Marie Hauge, Chester; Mrs. Joan Brooks and Mrs. Sonhie Griffith, Seattle; a brother, C. M. Morkrid, Petersburg, N. Dak., a sister, Mrs. Johanna Wasmuth, Northwood, N. Dak., and 14 grandchildren. A daughter, Mrs. Hilda Oxness, passed away in 1923, as did a boy, Alf, in infancy. All the children were present at the burial of their father.

Several substantial gifts to various missions in the Norwegian Lutheran church were given by the children and families. Mr. Morkrid was an honest and honored gentleman. During his stay here, in Seattle, his implicit faith and trust in God impressed those who knew him.

IVER MORKRID DIED IN SEATTLE ON WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

Iver Morkrid, prominent old-time farmer and resident of the community southwest of Chester for nearly thirty years, died at a hospital in Seattle at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon of this week, according to information received by friends here.

Mr Morkrid left Chester about a month ago for Seattle to spend the winter, as has been his custom for a number of years. At that time he was apparently in good health, and it was with much surprise that his friends here were informed last week of a sudden attack of paralysis with which he had been afflicted.

His brother, Oliver Morkrid, left last week for Seattle, and word received here the first of the week was to the effect that an operation would be performed, and that Mr. Morkrid was in a serious condition. News of his death Wednesday was not unexpected.

Deceased had lived in this county since about 1910, coming here with his parents and other members of the family from North Dakota. He was a successful farmer, and was held in highest esteem by his friends and neighbors. He was born in Sogn, Norway, coming to this country with his parents when only a boy. He was about fifty years of age.

Funeral services will be held in Seattle on Saturday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, and burial will be in the family plot in that city, where his mother and father were previously buried.

IVER MORKRID PASSES IN SEATTLE

The day after Iver Morkrid underwent a serious operation at the Swedish Hospital in Seattle, Wash., he passed away, Tuesday, the 26th of November. Burial service was held from the Mittelstadt Funeral Home the Saturday following. The Rev. O. L. Haavik, Pastor of the Ballard First Lutheran Church, who ministered to Iver Morkrid during his illness, officiated. Mr. Magnus Peterson sang. Interment took place in the Pacific Lutheran Cemetery, Seattle.

Iver Christopherson Morkrid was born in Sogn, Norway. With his parents he came to Grand Forks, N. Dak., in 1910. The following year the Morkrid family moved to Chester, Montana, where they have been farming through the years. During the past 10 years Iver Morkrid and family have spent the winters near Bothell, Wash. At his death Iver Morkrid was 52 years, five months and 19 days of age. He is survived by his wife, Agnes Morkrid; their two children, Lila Wadhams and Lloyd Hendrickson; the mother, Mrs. Mary Morkrid; three sisters, Mrs. A. I. Hauge of Chester, Mrs. W. V. Brooks and Mrs. C. T. Griffith of Seattle, and the brother, Oliver Morkrid. The mother, Mrs. Mary Morkrid, and Oliver, being informed of Iver Morkrid's serious illness, drove by automobile to Seattle and came there three days before his death. Last spring the father, Christopher Morkrid, passed away in Seattle. Father and son rest together in the Pacific Lutheran Cemetery, Seattle.

A beautiful greeting from the Pastor, A. B. Holland of Joplin, Mont., pastor of the Morkrid family, was read at the burial service by the Rev. O. L. Haavik. A very large gathering of relatives and friends were present at the memorial service.

LOTHAIR RAILROAD CROSSING

NASH-FINCH SALESMAN SUFFERS BROKEN NECK WHEN CAR IS HIT ON CROSSING BY EMPIRE BUILDER THURSDAY MORNING

As soon as word of the accident reached town, several persons drove out to investigate, but the only visible signs of the catastrophe that could be seen at the crossing were a large number of cigars, probably carried in the back of the car, scattered over the ground and some broken glass. The train had carried the wreckage and the victim a considerable distance to the west, out of sight from the roadway, before the train could be stopped and the wreckage removed. The car was finally taken from the front of the engine in the cut just north of the big snow fence west of Lothair, in quite a deep cut, and out of sight of persons passing by on the highway.

A peculiar thing about the wreck was the fact that the glass on the left hand side of the car was not even broken. The impact of the big passenger train engine threw the car clear of the tracks and caught it in the air, holding it fast to the engine until the train stopped. It required a large number of men to remove the wreckage, and the train was delayed more than a quarter of an hour before it could proceed on its way.

Victim Well Known Here
O’Der was well known here and throughout the territory in northern Montana. He was a salesman for the Nash-Finch company in Havre, and made regular trips through the towns along the Hi-Line going as far west as Shelby and north to Sweet Grass. He frequently remained over-night in Chester.

O’Der had been a salesman in this country for thirty-five years or more. In the early days he made the territory for the T.C. Power company of Port Benton, selling supplies to the large cattle and sheep ranches as well as calling on local merchants and was known by all the old time stockmen and ranchers.

Of late years he had been employed by the Nash-Finch company. He was considered an exceptionally good salesman, and was generally liked and respected by all who knew him.

He is survived by one daughter, who resides in Havre. He was past sixty years of age.

PIONEER JOPLIN RESIDENT IS CALLED BY DEATH

Mrs. John N. Olson, pioneer resident of the Joplin community, passed away at a Havre hospital on Friday of last week, Dec. 13, at the age of 71 years, following an extended illness. Funeral services were held in Joplin on Tuesday afternoon of this week from the Lutheran church at that place, Rev. A. B. Holland conducting the services. A large number of sorrowing friends and relatives attended the funeral services, attesting the high esteem in which the departed was held by all who knew her. Music was furnished by the Joplin senior choir.

Pallbearers were Emil Nelson, Nels Nelson, Peter Fusk, Art Stewart, Carl Nelson and Ed Hovee.

Mrs. John N. Olson was born June 9, 1869, at Westerbotten, Sweden. She came to America as a young woman, and for a time lived with her family in Canada. In 1912 the Olson family moved to a homestead north of Joplin where they lived until 1928, then moved to their present home three miles south of Inverness. She passed away at a Havre hospital on Friday, Dec. 13, 1940.

Those left to mourn the passing of this estimable pioneer woman include the husband, John N. Olson; three children, Mrs. Nellie Dahler, Hilding and Albert Olson; two sisters and a brother in Sweden, one brother in Canada, and five grandchildren.
An explosion caused by throwing distillate into a stove to liven up a slow burning fire caused the death of Leonard Parsell, age 35, and the severe burning of six other persons in a small house on the Parsell ranch five miles from Whitlash last Saturday afternoon.

The escape of any of the occupants of the small room after the explosion was almost miraculous, and was due in large measure to the action of Jimmy Morrison, who kicked out a window and got all the others out of the flaming room before he made his own escape.

Others injured and badly burned in the accident included Morrison, Tom Gardipee, Joe Welsh, Jack Ocott, and Mr. and Mrs. James Townshend, all neighbors. Of those not fatally injured, Gardipee suffered the most severe burns, and will be in the hospital here for some time. Ocott sustained severe burns on the hands, and Morrison was badly burned on the arms and hands, while Mr. and Mrs. Townshend suffered only slight burns and were released from the hospital after receiving treatment for their injuries. Ocott was cut quite badly in making his escape out through the broken window. Morrison, Gardipee and Ocott are still in the hospital, but all are expected to recover and are well on the way to recovery.

The accident occurred about four o'clock Saturday afternoon while the seven persons were in the room, playing cards during a rain storm. The room had cooled off, and Parsell took a five gallon can of distillate and threw some of the contents onto the fire. The flame followed back the stream from the stove to the can, causing a terrific explosion and enveloping the entire room in flames almost instantly. Parsell was knocked down and so severely burned that he had little chance for recovery. He died in the hospital at 6:15 Sunday morning.

The door in the small house was jammed, and escape for any of the entrapped occupants was impossible at first. Jimmy Morrison kicked out a window, and in some way got all of the occupants, including Parsell out of the flaming building before it was destroyed.

Word was immediately sent into Chester of the accident, and Dr. Benke and Mrs. Buck, a trained nurse from the Mary Lynn hospital started from here at once for the scene of the disaster. Due to the bad condition of the roads as a result of the rains, it was some time before the doctor and nurse could get through, and it was after six o'clock before they reached the injured parties. After giving first aid, the injured were brought into Chester and taken to the hospital, but it was after ten o'clock before they arrived in town.

It was known from the first that Parsell had little if any chance to survive, so severe were his burns. Everything possible was done to save him, but he passed away early Sunday morning.

The Townshends were able to return home after receiving medical attention, and the others were not considered dangerously hurt from the start.

The house where the tragedy occurred is located on what is known as the old Hicks place, a part of the Parsell ranch. The injured persons caught in the fire trap had been working on the ranch, putting up hay, but were unable to work Saturday because of the rain, and were congregated in the small building.

Funeral services for Parsell were held at Whitlash on Tuesday, and were attended by a large number of neighbors and friends.
Julius Peterson Killed When Hit by Train at Gildford

Julius Peterson, former well known resident of Chester and Lothair, but who had been stationed at Gildford for the past two years as second trick operator at that place, was instantly killed when he was struck by the east bound Empire Builder shortly after ten o'clock Saturday night of last week near the depot at Gildford.

The exact cause of the unfortunate occurrence will probably never be known, as there were no witnesses and only meagre details could be worked out by officials investigating the affair to substantiate a theory of exactly what had happened. Two notes, giving the address of a brother and a cousin, were found on the telegraph desk, together with some small change and a bunch of keys, which were taken by the coroner to indicate a suicide motive. The Hill county coroner, after making an investigation, decided that the case was one of suicide, and did not deem an inquest necessary.

The many friends and neighbors of Peterson, who had known him for years and many of whom had seen him and talked with him recently, discredit the suicide theory, however, and believe that he must have fallen in front of the oncoming train by accident. The body was evidently struck by the train near the crossing west of the depot, where the operator would have been putting out the mail for the train which does not stop at that point.

Word of the accident was received here shortly after it happened, as Ben Ish, operator on duty in the Chester office at that time was notified. Agent H. E. Bassford went immediately to Gildford, and was there when the Hill county officials arrived. Members of the engine crew of the Empire Builder did not know of the accident until the train reached Havre.

Funeral services were held from the Lutheran church in Gildford on Wednesday afternoon of this week.

MRS. JACK POIRIER PASSES
FOLLOWING LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. Ethel Poirier, wife of Jack Poirier of the Hi-Way Garage of Chester, died on Friday night of last week at a hospital in Great Falls following a protracted illness.
Mr. Poirier came to Chester about a year ago, when he purchased the Hi-Way Garage, and a few weeks later he was joined by his wife and one of their nieces. Mrs. Poirier was ill when they came to Chester, and spent much of her time in hospitals in Great Falls and Butte. They made their home in the Kolstad apartment while in Chester.
Funeral services were held Monday afternoon in Great Falls from the Croxford Mortuary, under the auspices of the church of Latter Day Saints, of which deceased was a member. Burial was in Highland cemetery in Great Falls.
Born Feb. 27, 1899, at Morland, Idaho, Mrs. Poirier had made her home in Great Falls for 13 years before coming to Chester. In addition to the husband, survivors are four sisters, Mrs. Glendora Thompson and Mrs. Donna Perrine, both of Great Falls and Mrs. Clara Triplet and Mrs. Jessie Packer of Butte, and three brothers, J. L. Stoddard of Hyrum, Utah, and Wallace Anderson and Esther Anderson, both of Great Falls.
TWO KILLED IN CAR CRASH ON HIGHWAY WEST OF DEVON

Two lives were snuffed out, four persons badly injured and two cars practically demolished in a car collision on Highway No. 2, just west of Devon and about twenty-five miles west of Chester late Tuesday afternoon, believed to have been indirectly caused by too much drinking.

Peter Pontuso, Havre cook, was killed instantly in the crash, and Jack Blake, proprietor of the Round-Up, a Havre night club, died a few hours later in a Shelby hospital from injuries received in the wreck. John Downes, a bartender at the Blake resort, was driving the car, and Mrs. Downes was the fourth passenger. Both were seriously injured.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gregory, of Detroit, Mich., who were driving west, were also seriously but not fatally injured in the crash, and are still in the Shelby hospital. A third car, which had just been passed on the road by the Havre car, a short distance west of the wreck, passed the wreckage and went on into Devon and reported the crash, asking that the highway patrol and Toole county officers be notified and that doctors be sent to the scene at once. In the excitement the identity of the third car, which was in no way to blame for the accident, was not obtained, and the car evidently proceeded east after notifying Devon residents of the accident.

The exact cause of the accident is not known, but at the investigation it was learned that the Havre car was proceeding east, and passed another car near the top of the grade just west of Devon. Tracks indicated that the Havre car swerved over to the left side of the road as it approached the Michigan car, and was probably traveling at a high rate of speed. The Michigan driver, seeing the other car approaching on the wrong side of the road, evidently pulled over to the left, and the actual crash occurred on the south side of the road. The Havre car was thrown from the grade, and rolled and skidded for a distance of about 45 feet before coming to a stop. The Michigan car was thrown to the right hand side of the road.

The Havre party was in Chester early Tuesday morning, between eight and nine o'clock. They visited two beer parlors, and according to persons who saw them when they left town were evidently drinking at that time. They are reported to have gone as far west as Cut Bank, and were returning toward Havre late in the afternoon when the accident occurred.

The coroner's jury of Toole county brought in a verdict of accidental death in a car crash, but fixed no criminal responsibility.

Mr. Rockman had been critically ill only a few days, although he had been in failing health for more than a year. Obituary

Christen Rockman was born at Stongelandsiedet, Norway, May 30th, 1863, son of Christen and Kaurina Rockman. He came to the United States from Norway 45 years ago, in 1895, settling in Milwaukee, and was later in Chicago. In 1908 he came to Chester and started the Grand Hotel, which he operated ever since.

On first coming to the Chester community, Mr. Rockman filed on a homestead 20 miles north of town, and made his home there for a time before engaging in the hotel business in Chester.

When a young man, before coming to America, Mr. Rockman was a sailor, and for twenty years sailed the seven seas of the world, having visited nearly every important port during that long period of service on the high seas. In later years he loved to talk of his experiences as a seaman, and told many thrilling tales of his adventures during that period of his life.

Charles M. Russell's Widow Dies in California Hospital

Mrs. Nancy Cooper Russell, 62, widow of Charles Marion Russell, famous cowboy artist, died at Huntington Memorial hospital, Pasadena, Calif., on May 24, after a three-year illness. Burial was in Great Falls, where her artist husband was buried in October, 1926.

Mrs. Russell was born in Kentucky May 4, 1878, and came to Cascade in 1894. There she made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Ben R. Roberts, now of Helena, Roberts has an art shop in the capital city, where he displays many of Russell's art works and paintings.

In 1895 Nancy Cooper met Russell and in September, 1896, they were married at Cascade. After living at Cascade for a year, they moved to Great Falls. In 1900 the Russell's built a home at 1219 Fourth avenue north, where they lived until Russell's death Oct. 24, 1926.

Because Russell wanted a studio to work in, he built the log cabin next door to their home in 1903. This building is now the Russell Memorial Studio.

On advice of Charles Schatzlein of Butte, owner of an art store which handled many of Russell's paintings, Mrs. Russell became Russell's business manager and proved successful. She encouraged Charley in his work and traveled with him when he showed his pictures in the east.

In 1914 the Russells took 19 oil paintings to London, where they were shown in the Dore library. In 1915 his paintings were exhibited in New York, Chicago and other eastern cities. Four years later Mr. and Mrs. Russell again went east to show his paintings. In 1920 one of Charley's pictures sold for $10,000 at Los Angeles.

Mrs. Russell left Great Falls in the spring of 1927 and moved to Pasadena. She spent her later years at her home there, called "Trail's End," and at the Russell cabin, Bull's Head lodge, on Lake McDonald in Glacier park. She spent nearly every summer at the lodge in Glacier park.

Survivors include her adopted son, Jack, of Pasadena; her father, John A. Cooper, and an uncle, both of Pasadena, and a half-sister, Mrs. Jean Ironsides, in Seward, Alaska. She was a member of the Episcopal church and had been active in church work in Great Falls before she left for California.

After Russell's death she edited a volume of his correspondence, "Good Medicine." She had nearly completed his biography when she was stricken with her last illness.

"Mrs. Russell deserves the credit for putting Charley in the limelight," Sid Willis, close friend of the noted artist and his wife, said. "Up to the time of his marriage Charley had no idea of the worth of his paintings. Nancy was smart enough to recognize their value and to push him forward. She took his canvases into eastern cities, stopped at the finest hotels and soon found art enthusiasts who were willing to pay good prices for the works of the cowboy painter."

Another tribute to Mrs. Russell was paid not long ago by William S. Hart, famous film portrayor of cowboy parts, in his biographical volume, "My Life East and West." Recounting the first time he and Charley were together, he recited how "Charley and Nancy Russell were in town. One could never say Charley without saying Nancy, too, for they were always together—a real man and a real woman."

MARGARET ANN STAUDACHER
DIED ON WEDNESDAY MORNING

Margaret Ann Staudacher, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Staudacher, passed away at the family home here Wednesday morning of this week, at nine o'clock, following a lingering illness.
She had been seriously ill since the middle of December, suffering with leakage of the heart. About three years ago she suffered an attack of scarlet fever, and the heart ailment was a direct result of that illness. The heart was somewhat enlarged, and this winter leakage of the heart developed, resulting fatally.

BOY SUFOCATED IN WHEAT BIN TUESDAY

Walter Storry Jr., twelve year old son of Walter Storry, of Cut Bank, was accidentally killed by suffocation when he fell into a pool of wheat being removed from a bin at the farm of his uncle, Mike Yurman, four miles northwest of Chester, about eleven o'clock Tuesday morning.

The tragic accident which snuffed out the life of the boy occurred while Mr. Yurman was removing wheat from a storage bin on his farm a few miles northwest of Chester. In company with several other children, the accident victim had been playing in the bin while Mr. Yurman was taking out the wheat with a power pump working from the bottom of the pit. Only a few minutes before the tragedy, Mr. Yurman had warned the children of the danger of playing in the wheat, and had told them to go to the house and get a drink. The others had left, and Mr. Yurman thought they had all gone. He was alarmed when he heard screaming in the bin, and rushed in only to see the boy sucked into the whirling pool formed by the removal operations. He made a frantic effort to rescue the boy, but was unable to get him out, and it was only after tearing out a portion of the side of the storage pit that the body was removed. It is estimated that at least ten feet of wheat passed over the body before it could be removed and death occurred from suffocation.

This is the second tragic death to occur in the Storry family in the last few years. The mother was burned to death about five years ago from an explosion in a stove caused by using distillate in starting a fire. At that time the family was making their home northwest of town.

After the mother's death, Mr. Storry moved with his children to Cut Bank, where they have since made their home. There is one other son in the family, a younger brother aged about eight years.

The boys had been visiting at the Yurman and Laas homes for some time. The mother was a sister of Mrs. Yurman and Mrs. Laas.

Funeral services will be held in Cut Bank on Thursday of this week, and the remains will be taken to Great Falls for burial beside the mother.

Members of the stricken family and the relatives have the sincere sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement.

CHAS. N. THURMAN, OF DEVON, DIES OF AUTO CRASH INJURIES

Chas. N. Thurman, old time resident of the Devon community, and prominent in Masonic circles throughout the state, died in a Shelby hospital at 10:00 p.m. Monday of this week as a result of injuries received in an automobile wreck one mile north of Shelby Sunday night.

Thurman came to Montana about thirty years ago, settling on a homestead south of Galata, and northeast of Conrad. While homesteading he went to Conrad where he organized a municipal band which he led for a number of years. He then went to Devon where he opened a blacksmith shop, and of late years had operated the place as a machine and welding shop.

Charley Thurman was known and liked by nearly every member of the Masonic fraternity in northern Montana. He was a member of the Galata lodge, but was a familiar figure in all Grand Lodge meetings in the state for many years, and was a frequent and welcome visitor in neighboring lodges.

According to reports of the accident received here, Thurman had been on a trip through the oil fields north of Shelby, and was returning home early in the evening. Hugh Frazer, who was driving the car in which Thurman was a passenger, turned out sharply upon meeting another car at the crest of a hill, when the car skidded on the rain-soaked pavement and turned over into a deep ditch. Frazer was not seriously injured, but Thurman received fatal injuries. He was taken to a hospital in Shelby, and passed away at ten o'clock Monday night.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon from the Community Methodist church in Shelby, and burial services were held at Galata, with the ritualistic services of the Masonic order and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, of which he was a member.

Deceased was born September 11, 1875, at Rapatea, Ill. He is survived by his widow and one son, Lyman Thurman, of Devon.
